A story surfaced on the internet recently about a man who had sued the Bible publishers Zondervan and Thomas Nelson for $70 million because they used the word "homosexual" in their translations. This story was published on a website called 'Truth Uncensored' and even provided a 'source link'. But the link was to a story that first appeared 9 years ago and failed to mention that the lawsuit was dismissed at that time. When this was pointed out, 'Truth Uncensored' printed a statement at the bottom of their webpage asking readers to 'excuse the inaccurate information'. The problem is that several other websites had picked up the 'news' and were reporting it as if it were true and starting an uproar.

We see a similar thing happening all around us. Media sources report sensational happenings and do their best to inflame fears and passions from their readers with little regard as to the truthfulness of their stories. Other news sources pick up the story and continue to spread it. Such 'fake news' is becoming a way of life with our media outlets. People are always ready to believe the worst or to impute evil motives, especially to those who attempt to stand for what is right, true, and according to God's word. But this shouldn't come as a shock to those who know the Bible. We are told in 2 Timothy 3:12-13 "In fact, everyone who wants to live a godly life in Christ Jesus will be persecuted, while evildoers and impostors will go from bad to worse, deceiving and being deceived." And Jesus told those who would follow him - John 15:20 "Remember what I told you: 'A servant is not greater than his master.' If they persecuted me, they will persecute you also. If they obeyed my teaching, they will obey yours also." Think of the lies and things that were said about Jesus. Jesus always answered those who would oppose him with the truth quoted from the words of His Father. That should be our example - 1 Peter 2:21 "To this you were called, because Christ suffered for you, leaving you an example, that you should follow in his steps."

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

How many sons did Leah herself bear for Jacob?

The Bereans were commended because they checked out the words of Paul to see if they were true. So we must also check out what we are told both in religious matters as well as all other matters so that we can know the truth. John wrote in 1 John 4:1 "Dear friends, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, because many false prophets have gone out into the world." May we be as Jesus told His followers - "wise as serpents and harmless as doves" in all matters.
